

Some good websites for ethnic minority pupils in the primary school

www.eslkidstuff.com

An excellent website for learners new to English. Flashcards for many topics and activity sheets to practise vocabulary.

£11 subscription for one year's unlimited use.

Watch spelling as it is an American website.

<http://bogglesworld.com/>

An excellent website specifically for pupils with English as an additional language. Goes a step further than the above site in the level of activities. Well worth having a look: flashcards, crosswords, grammar activities, games etc..... Free.

www.britishcouncil.org/kids

Yet another site for pupils learning English. Excellent animated stories, alphabet & grammar activities.

Good section called Story Maker (under 'Get Writing') where children can choose pictures for various elements of their story & then the programme writes their short story. They can then read it back & illustrate. Free.

www.bbc.co.uk/schools

You will already be familiar with the wealth of highly visual & interactive material for all areas of the curriculum. Excellent for pupils with little English.

www.bbc.co.uk/schools/laac

This is specifically for KS1. Some lovely animated stories & activities that are suitable for young learners of English.

www.dltk-kids.com

Again, excellent for KS1. Some great pictures, puppets, activities for many common stories: Hungry Caterpillar, Brown Bear, Three Little Pigs etc.....

You can also make your own custom made bingo cards with pictures on many topics, using this site.

www.kizclub.com

This is an excellent website for younger pupils. It has pictures and various activities for children's stories and general language development. It is also free.

www.enchantedlearning.com

This is a well known site. It has many activities for various curriculum areas starting at a very basic level and building up. There is an excellent selection of mini books with clear pictures and opportunities for pupils to add or copy text below. Very useful for pupils with less English.

www.sparklebox.co.uk

This is an excellent site for visual timetables, duties boards, classroom labels and a wealth of visual resources for literacy and numeracy. While it is aimed at lower primary, some of the resources would also suit upper.

www.schoolslinks.co.uk

Good website for school and classroom labels and visual resources for various curriculum areas.

www.mantralingua.com & www.milet.com

Two excellent websites for multicultural and bilingual books, posters, labels, CDs and so on.

www.primaryresources.co.uk/letters

Useful website for some translated letters. This is a temporary address and may change.

Once upon a time there was a King and a Queen. They lived in a lovely golden tree house and had a beautiful daughter, Ann. But Ann was very unhappy. She never laughed or smiled. "We will give a violin to the person who can make Ann happy," said the Queen. A musician came and played the harp, a fairy said a magic spell, and a joker came and told jokes, but Ann did not smile or laugh.

A young cleaner came to work at the Queen's tree house. He came with his little parrot. The little parrot liked to play. One day Ann saw the parrot and started to smile - then she laughed. The Queen heard her daughter and saw the parrot. The parrot was happy to get a violin!

 Print  Another Story

Story maker is under the 'Get Writing' tab. Children choose the type of story they want and then the different elements such as characters, setting and so on. When they have selected all the elements, the programme writes their story. They can then print the story and perhaps illustrate it.
